They informed me that they had no SOP I informed them of my IROE and made clear to them what I was and wasn't allowed to do or see. I made clear to them that their prison was their prison and they can handle buisness how they see fit, however i follow different rules and i asked them to respect the fact that I have to follow those rules. I am good friends with the MP's that work at this detention facility and they trust me. I also am very specific with those MP's as to what level of knowledge I want to have concerning this detention facility. I didn't see any acts of torture or mistreatment. The MP's did prepare prisoners prior to interrogations by haveing them do physical exercises and yelling at them. The interrogators would verbally discuss, with a MP, a detainee and his cooperativeness and various methods to deal with a detainer such as physical exercise at random hours of the night and yelling. I was aware that some MP's were taking pictures of detainers and had them on their computers. I have seen detainers naked. When a detainer threw his feces, the MP's had him take a cold shower then roll in the dirt outside then stand until he was dry then they showered him in cold water again. When the detainee was naked he was laughed at and velled at. I have seen an MP slap a detainee. When I saw the detainee later it appeared the detainee was bitten multiple times. The K-9 handler stated he did not think the dog could be used in this fashion and we departed the area. proper treatment of the detainee. For example, this current detainee does not like to conform to proper grooming standards. So, I've referred to the MP's to give the detainer his special treatment. This is to include, showering of the detainee (not excessively) daily if necessary, having the detainee brush his teeth and the maintaining of short hair and no facial hair. Hence, the MP's are not directed when and how this is to be administered, but that it can be used to keep the detainer awake when the detainer is more prone to sleep. Q. Have you ever had an incident where one of your detainees was bruised or complained of being

- assaulted by any of the guards?
- Q. Have you ever verbally requested one of the guards to assault one of your detainees?
- Q. Have you seen or heard any other type of suspicious incidents that would indicate abuse of the prisoners besides what you have listed in the above statement?
- Q. Do you know of any type of pictures that show abuse of detainees?
- Q. Do you have anything else to add to this statement concerning the matters under investigation?

MEMORANDUM FOR RECORD

SUBJECT: Interview of

1. On 17 June 2004, the undersigned interviewed hereinafter referred to as Source, concerning his knowledge of detainee file locations and procedures. Source provided the following response in a separate Word document:

Q: Where are the DAB assessments? Where are the detainee files?

A: From September 2003 through March 2004 I was the C2X of CJTF-7. As such I had responsibility for staff oversight of all interrogation operations in Iraq. From November 2003 through February 2004 I replaced MG Fast as the president of the Article 78 Board (Security Internee Appeal and Review Board.) From February to the time of my departure I participated as an MI rep (twice a week) on the standing release board.

Of the entire detainee population in Iraq, only a small percentage was considered as "MI holds." These "MI hold" detainees were physically kept at Camp Vigilant at the Abu Ghuraib prison complex, and they were interrogated at the IIDC. The remaining detainees were considered as "security holds" or "criminal holds." These security and criminal detainees were kept at separate camps within the Abu Ghuraib prison complex. Of the total number of "MI hold" detainees, only a small percentage were ever assessed by the DAB. Specifically, the DAB only assessed those detainees who were being considered for release from "MI hold" status. This typically occurred once they had been fully exploited and had no further intelligence value. When the DAB declared a detainee was of "no intelvalue" and no longer a "MI hold", the detainee was physically moved from Camp Vigilant over to Camp Ganci (general security hold population) within the prison complex.

SJA personnel out at the Abu Ghuraib prison complex maintained hard copy dossiers on each security internee. The assessments produced by the DAB were added to these hard copy detainee dossiers as appropriate. The dossiers of "security hold" detainees were considered by the release board. (Note: The board never considered any "MI hold" detainees for release.) Each week from SJA would make arrangements to have the hard copy dossiers of "security hold" detainees physically transported to Camp Victory, so they could be considered by the release board.

At Camp Victory the CJTF-7 C2X shop had an interrogation operations management section (comprised of about five to seven personnel). This section was physically located in a trailer located immediately behind the HQ building (before the HQ moved to the Al Faw Palace. was the head of that section from about November 2003 through February 2004; beplaced him and is presently in charge.

Within the interrogation operations management section there were a couple of NCOs who were responsible for supporting the release board. (Note: While I was there, these NCOs included They worked closely with

The SJA developed the docket for the upcoming boards. The NCOS from the interrogation management section ran name traces on the dockets through the Intelligence Fusion Center (IFC). The NCOs from the interrogation management section would also physically review each hard copy detained dossier prior to the release board and annotate on a checklist in each file that the detained was not considered an "MI Hold." (Note: In preparation for the boards a CID officer would also review the dossiers and annotated on the checklist whether the detained was on "CID hold.") Once MI and MP had done their respective reviews, the dossiers were then handed back over to SJA

From September 2003 through November 2003 the release board was comprised of MG Fast (MI), BG Karpinski (MP), and In November 2003 I replaced MG Fast, an MP LTC replaced BG Karpinski, and a JAG MAJ replaced We met twice a week and reviewed an average of 100 files total per week. In February 2004 a USMC JAG COL from Camp Lejeune arrived and established a standing release board. The MP representative was a LTC and the MI representative was a COL (a duty rotated between four COLs in the C2 section.) The standing release board considered about 100 files per day, six days a week.
